

CARR IS CHAIRMAN OF COUNTY LEGION

Elected by Envoys of 68 Out of 78 Posts Scattered Through Philadelphia

CITY CLUB HEADQUARTERS

George Wentworth Carr is the first permanent chairman of the American Legion in Philadelphia county.

He was elected last night by the representatives of the county committee at its meeting in the Chamber of Commerce building, over Thomas E. Meekins, Post 83. There were committee members in attendance from sixty-eight of the seventy-eight posts in the city, making it the most representative gathering of legionaries since the county committee was formed.

Chairman Carr is the county committee member from Post 270, Thirty-fourth Ward. He has been a leader in the legion since its inception in Philadelphia, and has been instrumental in the organization of seventy-eight posts in the city, with an approximate membership of 25,000.

This election means a continuance of the policies that have been fostered in the county organization during the last six months. He is a member of the Philadelphia bar, active in many civic movements and has been a delegate to the state convention and the national convention of the legion.

The other officers elected are Carl Sachs, Post No. 188, vice chairman; Charles J. Bidde, Post No. 174, treasurer, and the following executive committee: Frank W. Melvin, Post No. 70; Reginald Hogan, Post No. 186; H. N. Schwartz, Post No. 312; Leo Weinrott, Post No. 230; J. J. Lamond, Post No. 98; A. Nevin Dietrich, Post No. 3, and William O. Muench, Post No. 7. The secretary of the county committee will be named by the county chairman.

There was an animated discussion of several vital clauses of the constitution and by-laws adopted by the committee for its guidance during its first year. The question of maintenance was considered. A suggestion was made by the former executive committee to the effect that each post pay to the county committee 25 cents for each paid-up member. This article in the proposed constitution was referred to the various posts for direct action.

Under the by-laws adopted last night, each post has one representative in the county committee, and provision was made for proxy in the event the duly-elected county committeeman was unable to attend a meeting.

The first Wednesday in each month was selected for meetings, and the place of meeting will be the City Club, 313 South Broad street.

As chairman of a special committee to inquire into the facts surrounding the passage of a resolution on De Valera by the state entomment, Frank W. Melvin, Post 70, reported the findings. It was urged that in the future the legion refrain from action on questions of an international nature.

Otto H. Holligman, treasurer, submitted a report showing that $1350 had been raised through voluntary contributions and that there remains $8.00 in the treasury, with bills aggregating $400.

Phillip J. Monney, Post 249, has elected its officers for the year: Post commander, Joseph V. Somers; post vice commander, William A. McLaughlin; post adjutant, Walter W. Haughey; post finance officer, Charles E. Taylor; and employment officer, Homer H. Hacker.

Post 106, American Legion, held its semi-monthly meeting on Thursday evening, December 4, at the Thirty-sixth Ward Republican Club. Twenty-fourth and Wharton streets. The election of officers for the year 1920 was held, and the following comrades elected: Post commander, Daniel A. Garland; post vice commander, Frank A. Giannandrea; post adjutant, John A. Martin; post finance officer, John J. Henry; historian, Joseph Clark; delegate to the county committee, Daniel A. Garland; executive committee, John J. Fitzpatrick, Harry A. Summers, Thomas J. Feeney, John Hutchinson, John P. McCotter.

A resolution was passed opposing the abandonment of the Schuylkill Arsenal, 2629 Grays Ferry road, by the United States Government, as it would result in the discharge of 180 or more ex-service men now employed there. A great many widows, wives, mothers and sisters of ex-service men are also employed there.

Captain Frederick and Sergeant Irving S. Clair, Post No. 37, elected officers for the year: Post commander, Michael Saxe; vice commander, Daniel Rubin; adjutant, George Ritch; historian, Harry Carroll; finance officer, Leon Clark; publicity officer, Louis Rosenberg; insurance officer, Louis Cooper; employment officer, Morris Price; executive committee, Meyer Robinson, St. Malis, Edward Rosen and Louis Goldman.

JEWISH COUNCIL CELEBRATES BIRTH

Women to Stage Play This Afternoon in Observing 25th Anniversary

ACTIVE IN CIVIC MOVEMENT

The Philadelphia section of the Council of Jewish Women will celebrate its twenty-five years of service with an elaborate social program in Mercantile Hall this afternoon.

Mrs. Nathaniel E. Harris, the national president of the council; Mrs. Hugo Rosenberg, founder of this section, and Mrs. Hannah Solomon, honorary president, will be the guests of honor. Mrs. L. B. Fleisher, the first president, will present a silk standard of the council's colors to Mrs. Max Margolis, president of the council, and a play called "Tien and Now," based on the history of the organization, will be given by members. Special dancing features by the juniors have also been arranged under the general chairmanship of Mrs. Harry J. Hissinger.

In 1894, when the council was formed, there was considerable opposition. It was looked upon as an enterprise for women to leave the duties of their homes in order to take up outside work. At the organization meeting, which was attended by the Rev. Joseph Krauskopf and the Rev. Dr. Berkowitz, one woman questioned whether "the organization proposed would instill into the children a reverence for their parents, and of their religious observance of the Sabbath."

These difficulties overcome, the organization devoted itself to religious and philanthropic work for several years before branching out into national and civic life. In the Spanish-American War the records of the council show that "quantities of materials and liberal donations" were collected.

Work among Jewish immigrants was started in 1900 and has since become one of the most important and largest

LIBERAL MEETING DELAYED

St. Louis Hotel Manager Heeds Protests of American Legion

St. Louis, Dec. 9.—(By A. P.)—The conference of forty-eight, was unable to open its first national convention on scheduled time today because it had not found a meeting place.

Charges of disloyalty brought against it by certain posts of the American Legion caused the manager of the hotel where the conference was to have been held to notify the committee that he could not permit the meeting there. Hundreds of delegates from all sections of the country are here and all denied the charges.

The principal object of the conference is to formulate a program to solve economic and social problems.

Here you will find the right gift—at the right price—for every name on your Christmas gift list. And the spacious Electric Shop, with its well-trained salespeople and well-displayed merchandise, makes for easy and pleasant shopping.

To surround your electric gifts with the real holiday atmosphere we will wrap them in attractive Christmas packages, wherever practicable, and will deliver them on the date specified by you. But our advice is: Make your selections early while the stock is fresh and complete and the shopping facilities are not yet strained.

Electric Lamps

HERE you will find a veritable fairland of beautiful lamps—all kinds, all sizes and all prices. You can buy a small mahogany lamp with silk shade for as little as $5—and you can buy a tall, hand-carved Chinese Chippendale floor lamp, complete with shade, for $200. Between these two prices there is something to fit every pocketbook. And the assortment is large and fresh enough to offer something to suit every taste. Especially notable in the collection of silk shades are the lovely new flat types, with deep, thick fringe, which are so much sought after just now. Many kinds of parchment shades are also here awaiting your selection—some beautiful hand painted flower and bird designs, and a few which are smart and good-looking because of their simplicity of design.

Electric Household Helps

MOST popular as gifts among this class of electric appliances are the different types of coffee percolators—in attractive pot and urn types, the latter accompanied by sugar bowl, cream pitcher and tray to match—some silver-plated; chafing dishes of several different lovely designs; toasters; irons; radiators; grills; hot water kettles and tea pots, in which anyone would be charmed to brew a cup of tea; waffle irons, which insure success in turning out crisp, tender, delicious waffles; egg cookers, hot water heaters and other cooking appliances designed to make life easy for the housewife. Such gifts as these are really substantial. All these appliances are beautifully finished and, while made to give real service, are designed with an eye to good lines and beauty. Our attractive Christmas wrapping will add to their distinction. Prices, $7 to $60
